

RUCKUS One

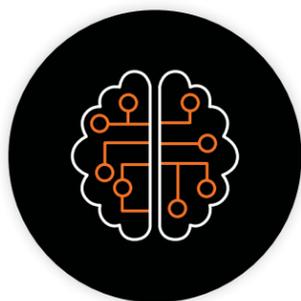

AI-driven converged network assurance, service delivery and business intelligence platform

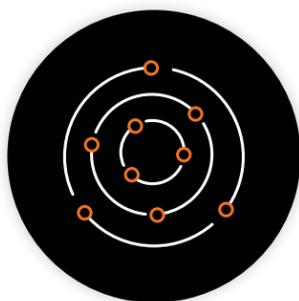

RUCKUS One is an AI-driven network assurance and business intelligence platform that enables you to easily manage a converged multi-access public and private enterprise network, make better business decisions, and deliver exceptional user experiences. With flexible subscription and flexible deployment models, RUCKUS One enables you to deploy future-proof networks simply, reliably, securely and at cloud-scale.

Unified converged network management

AI-driven network assurance

AIOps to automate IT operations intelligently

Secure network access and policy management

Service catalog